HISTORIC HIGHLIGHTS

Philip Iselin played a key role in launching the modern Monmouth Park in 1946, which was built adjacent to his home in Oceanport. When asked by Amory L. Haskell if he minded the track being so close to his home, Iselin reportedly replied, "Not at all, and I wouldn't mind joining you."

Iselin was appointed chairman of the construction committee in 1946, and treasurer of the newly formed Monmouth Park Jockey Club. In 1961, he was elevated to the position of vice-president, and when Amory L. Haskell died in 1966, Iselin was named president and chairman of the board, and held those positions for 10 years until his death in 1976.

A native of Port Washington, New York, Iselin entered the garment industry after high school. In 1933, he founded the Kay Dunhill Corporation, and later, the Korell Corporation. Korell produced low and mid-priced women's apparel and grew into a multi-million dollar business.

In 1939, Iselin married Betty Bing, and they had two children, horse trainer Jim, and journalist Kay. Along with his wife, Iselin formed the Monmouth Park Charity Fund in 1947, which has raised over $8 million. The fund still continues to distribute money to the needy of Monmouth County.

In 1968, Iselin became president of the New York Jets, which he and a group of businessmen had purchased in 1964 under the name of the New York Titans. The team went on to win the Super Bowl with quarterback Joe Namath at the helm.

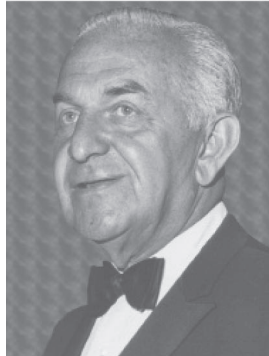

Under Iselin, Monmouth Park established many firsts: videotape patrol, a nationally televised race, an Olympic-sized swimming pool for the jockeys, an interior chute for the grass course, a turf club in the grandstand, a recreation hall in the stable area, and a modern, air-conditioned press box.

In 1986, as tribute to the late president and chairman of the board of Monmouth Park, officials of the racetrack renamed the Monmouth Handicap the Philip H. Iselin Handicap.

Since 1946, 15 Hall of Fame Members have competed in the Iselin.

RUNNING LINES

Called the Monmouth Handicap in its early days, the Iselin was run at the distance of 1 1/2 miles from 1884 to 1893. Upon its revival in 1946 at the modern Monmouth Park, the distance was shortened to 1 1/4 miles, and continued to attract the top older horses in the country. The distance was later changed to 1 1/8 miles in 1979.

Philip H. Iselin

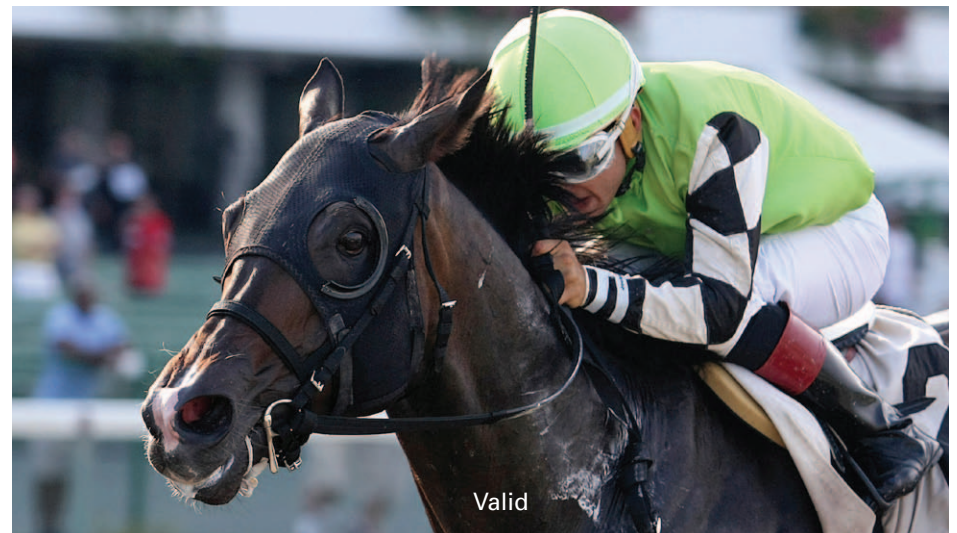

In 1888, Firenze, a small bay filly, defeated colts in the Monmouth Handicap, in just one of her victories against the boys. During her sophomore year, she won numerous filly stakes at Monmouth, encouraging her owner, M. Haggin, to try her against the likes of Hall-of-Famers Hanover and Kingston, both of which she defeated.

Modern day filly My Celeste is the lone female to have won the race, although Lady's Secret, eventual Horse of the Year, was third to Roo Art and Precisionist in 1986, and Serena's Song, Champion 3-Year-Old Filly of 1995, was third to Smart Strike and Eltish in 1996.

Run at 1 1/16 miles for the first time in 1996. In 1997, Formal Gold shattered the track record for the distance, winning the Iselin by 5 3/4 lengths in the time of 1:40¹.

Run at a mile and an eighth again in 1998, when it served as a showcase for Skip Away. Owned by Carolyn Hine and trained by her late husband, Hall-of-Famer Sonny Hine, Skip Away used the Iselin as a springboard to 1998 Horse of the Year honors and became the lowest priced winner in the history of the race, paying the minimum $2.10.

Ghostzapper made his two-turn debut a successful one, drawing off to a record 10 3/4 length victory in the 2004 edition. The Bobby Frankel-trainee went on to win the Breeders' Cup Classic and take home honors as Horse of the Year and Champion Older Colt or Gelding.
