HISTORIC HIGHLIGHTS

The designation "Oaks" was established in England, and the first Epsom Oaks was contested in 1779, actually a year before the first Derby was run. The tradition of Oaks (for fillies) and Derby (for colts) has continued ever since for 3-year-old events. Thus, at the old Monmouth Park, it was natural to name the prestigious 3-year-old filly race the Monmouth Oaks, and it has lived up to the lofty tradition since 1871.

RUNNING LINES

The Monmouth Oaks, with its first running in 1871, is the oldest Oaks still run in America. Races such as the Kentucky Oaks (1875) and the Coaching Club American Oaks (1917) came after the Monmouth version.

The roll call of Monmouth Oaks winners is filled with the best fillies in the history of the sport. In the 1800s, eventual Hall of Famers Miss Woodford (1883) and Firenze (1887) captured the Oaks. The race started off at a mile and a half, the distance of the Epsom Oaks, but was switched to a mile and a quarter prior to those two champions competing in it.

Dark Mirage, who developed into a marvelous filly after she stretched out to routes, won the 1968 Monmouth Oaks. Dark Mirage, the first horse to win the New York Filly Triple Crown, clinched a well-deserved championship that year, and her efforts that season were impressive enough to earn her a spot in the Hall of Fame.

Since 1947, 17 champion fillies have competed in the Monmouth Oaks, while five of the previous winners earned spots in the Hall of Fame.

Interestingly, two Monmouth Oaks competitors "prepped" in the Kentucky Derby against males. In 1959, Silver Spoon was fifth in the Derby, while in 1984 Life's Magic finished eighth in the Churchill Downs classic.

Two Altazano went on an "Oaks Tour" in 1994, winning the Fair Grounds Oaks, Sam Houston Oaks, Coaching Club American Oaks and Marie DeBartolo Oaks in addition to her win in the Monmouth Oaks.

Spain (2000) and Unbridled Elaine (2001) both went on to capture the Breeders' Cup Distaff following their victories in the Monmouth Oaks.
